Resident learning to walk again after rare transplant

By Steve Fletcher
Ian Hoyland gave himself a special birthday present last week when he took a walk around his house. It was the day before his 50th birthday, and nine weeks since he was in Misericordia Hospital for a delicate, and extremely new, bone transplant operation. His first, uneasy steps represent the start of an arduous task - before him. Hoyland must learn to walk all over again. He thinks it will take him two months to regain power in his left leg, although doctors are uncertain of the recovery period simply because Hoyland's operation was so new to the medical field.

"It was the first time it was ever done in Edmonton, this particular type (of transplant)," said Hoyland of the procedure which required the replacement of the tibia bone in his left leg.

The operation, lasting about 4½ hours, was unique because it required the attachment of the complete lower knee joint as well. A total of 19 screws were implanted in the leg.

Hoyland described his orthopedic surgeon, Dr. Michel Lavoie, as a pioneer in his field.

"He trained in his specialty for two years in Toronto to learn how to do it," he said.

Hoyland was diagnosed with a bone disease last November. When he finally received a call five months later that the right-sized tibia was available, Hoyland greeted the announcement with relief.

"I was glad I was going to get it over with," said the Mobil Oil employee.

Sitting encircled by friends at a surprise birthday party, secretly arranged by his wife Carol, Hoyland says he is healing well. He looks most forward to the day when he can return to work.

So how does he feel on his 50th birthday?

"Good. Excellent. I'm ready for another 50."

Ian Hoyland and wife Carol celebrate Ian's 50th birthday last week. Hoyland is recovering after a rare type of bone transplant.

President disappointed

Chamber's trade fair in trouble

The Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce annual trade fair is in big trouble.

Chamber president Marty Prentice says he is extremely disappointed in local businesses who haven't renewed their booth space. About one-third of last year's local businesses who had booths at the September trade fair, still haven't signed up.

Prentice says a phone campaign is underway and if that doesn't get any response, his committee will have to go door to door.

"The trade fair is a showcase of local business," Prentice explained.

If local business doesn't support the annual trade fair, it only opens the door for more out-of-town exhibitors.

To date only 55 booths have been confirmed and according to Prentice, his committee is wrestling with the idea of dropping the curling rink and going strictly with the arena.

Five paper trees on 50th Avenue and three on 50th Street were chopped down last Saturday morning.

Engineers Manjeet Kaur said the residents of the Lesura Lea Apartments had asked last year to have the six trees in front of their place removed. All the trees were taken down because of the problems their roots were causing with the sewer system and the sidewalks.

Two countesss conducted by The Western Review last Saturday morning, while the trees were coming down (between 9 and 10 a.m.) knew nothing about the decision to chop them down. They're telling about that. Alex said.

The driver of a motor vehicle suffered chest injuries Friday when his car rolled on a gravel road near Cynthia.

Robert Terry Doherty, of Edmonton, was taken by air ambulance to an Edmonton hospital. Drayton Valley RCMP report the accident occurred at 6:45 p.m. eight miles north of Cynthia.

The price of gasoline in Drayton Valley climbed to 64.9 on Monday.

A chip seal coat has been added to 18 km on Highway 621. County councillor Henry Rouds says budget cutbacks might mean the stretch of road from Cynthia just beyond the Pembina River bridge will get the chip seal this year.

Another concern on Highway 621 is all the reported broken head lights and windows motorists have encountered due to the chip seal. Motorists are advised to drive the posted speed limit.

Cowboy Flett classic

Celebrities confirm visit

By Frank Ryan
Hockey will be well represented at the third annual Cowboy Flett celebrity charity golf classic at the Drayton Valley course Thursday, July 30.

Twenty-one celebrities have been confirmed including 16 hockey players representing the Stanley Cup champion Oilers, Calgary Flames, Quebec Nordiques, New York Rangers, Hartford Whalers and the Buffalo Sabres.

Last year's event that included Wayne Gretzky raised $8,000 for the Beehive Workshop after the first year's event raised $4,500. The confirmed guest list reads like a who's who in sports.

Boxer Ken Lukusta who is scheduled to meet Willie De Wit in a September card headlines the list of celebrities.

Hockey will be represented by Bill Flett (former Oiler and Philadelphia Flyer), Mark Messier, Dave Hunter, Charlie Huddy, Andy Moog, Craig Muni, Randy Gregg, Dave Lumley, defenceman Al MacInnis of Calgary, Nordiques' goaltender Clint Malarchuk, New York Ranger and former Oiler Stu Kulak, Hartford Whaler and former Oiler Dave Semenko, Buffalo Sabres captain Lindy Buff (who hails from Warburg), former Oiler Ron Chipfield who now plays hockey in Italy and former Chicago Black Hawk goalie Glenn Hall.

Football is well represented by former Eskimo quarterback Tom Wilkinson.

Other guests will include Clare Drake from the University of Alberta, KSN sportscaster Wes Montgomery, CFRN sportscaster Al McCann and CICA sportscaster Fred Fleming.

A number of other celebrities will be confirmed in the next week or two.

Visitors are welcome to come out to the course and see their celebrities. The golfing gets underway at 11 a.m. with 18 groups of six playing a best ball team scramble. There will be at least one celebrity with each group.

Pit bull takes run thru town

By Megan Parker
A pit bull terrier spotted running loose in town last week was picked up without incident following a two-hour search.

A call to Jim Bain, the town's animal control officer and the RCMP came in around 11 a.m.

A pit bull had been seen south of Sekura Auctions heading towards town, confirmed Const. Jeff Smith.

An hour after receiving the call Bain had the dog cornered, but apparently it escaped when he lost sight of it in the alley off 49th street near the Turbo station, explained Smith.

To assist in picking up the dog, Bain contacted the owner of the animal, which eventually led to the end of the search near the United Church.

Both Bain and Constable Smith agreed the dog was friendly — not vicious. Calling the dog a "little rascal," Smith said: "If it had of been a german shepherd no one would have called."

According to Bain two pit bull terrier owners live in the Drayton Valley area and no complaints have been voiced by residents or problems been reported.

Const. Smith believes the "recent craze over pit bulls" resulted in the call to his detachment.

Dr. Lookmanjee, who operates the Drayton Valley Veterinary, where town dogs are boarded, says he picked up a pitbull terrier three weeks ago. Because the dog was picked up in the County of Parkland, he informed the county police. As it was a Sunday and the county dog catcher was located in Stony Plain, he boarded it overnight. The following morning before the dog catcher arrived, the owner came and picked up the dog.

Several local residents have reported seeing a pit bull terrier south on 50th Street during the last week. It may have been the same one that resulted in the two-hour search.

Weekend break-in

RCMP are investigating a break and enter at Monarch Pump Drayton Valley Ltd on the weekend.

The incident occurred between the closing of July 10 and 10 a.m. on July 11.

Entry was gained through a broken front window and a cash box has been reported stolen, said Cpl. Tom Turner.

Meeting with town

'A good hearing' — Evergreen

By Steve Fletcher
Drayton Valley Town Council gave the Evergreen Tourist Association "a very good hearing" at a recent special meeting, says the association's president.

Ken Albrecht said a June 24 meeting in town between his group and the council was very positive.

"They provided us with ample opportunity to give our views. They haven't made any definite decisions, but some of the guys (councillors) wished us well."

Drayton Valley is considering switching its tourist association alignment from Evergreen to Battle River.

The chamber of commerce believes Battle River would be both more geographically and financially suitable to the town (Evergreen this year raised its membership fees from 25 cents to $1 per capita.)

The town has been invited to Evergreen's July 18 monthly directors' meeting, Albrecht said.

Battle River has said it will not consent to a Drayton Valley membership until Evergreen gives its okay. But Albrecht maintained that his association "will not support at this time the desire by Drayton Valley to go somewhere else."

The town "is an intricate part of Evergreen," he added.

Albrecht called the membership fee increase a necessary step to ensure Evergreen's survival.

Running on 25 cents per capita was "self-strangulation. We couldn't even afford to keep the office open."

Albrecht said financial stability will go a long way in the association's push to revamp itself and introduce broader goals and strategies to develop tourism.

"If you pay $10 and get nothing, or you pay $100 and get something — maybe you should look at paying the $100."

Evergreen's immediate plans are to develop an exploration guide for the area. A recent detailed study of the region's tourism potential will form the backbone of the guide.

Also, a "much-improved" brochure has just been printed and will be distributed immediately, Albrecht noted.

Other goals are to set up major identification signs, eight or nine in all, throughout the zone and to produce a video promoting tourism.

The Evergreen executive recently met over two days to re-evaluate the objectives of the group.

"We're not asking (the town) for money, but for input, expertise," Albrecht said.

Noting the provincial government has pledged to more than quadruple the tourism industry by the year 2,000, Albrecht added, "There's a tremendous future in tourism."

At the booth

Valerie Soli, a Frank Maddock high school student, has started full-time duties at the tourist information booth on 50th Ave. This is Soli's second at the post. Along with Soli comes expanded hours at the booth for July and August.

Trail proposal passed on to county

An application to the town requesting a bike trail has been passed on to the County of Parkland.

Recently, a resident wrote a letter to the town asking that a bike trail from the Pleasantview Trailer Court, south of the town limits, be created along 50th Street into town.

However, the town was unable to deal with the request because the trailer court is located in the County of Parkland, said Howard Olsen, chairman of the transportation committee.

Opinions

Evergreen or Battle River?

Tourism decision a tough one for town to make

Tourism is big business. However, it isn't considered that big in these parts.

But there are signs this attitude may change.

Town council has been wrestling with the problem of membership. Should they withdraw from the Highway 16-based Evergreen Association and go with Battle River?

The town is in the Evergreen Zone, but on a recommendation from the chamber they weren't getting their money's worth, council decided to apply for membership with the Camrose-based Battle River group.

However, Evergreen doesn't want to lose Drayton Valley or their $5,000 membership fee. The cost to join Battle River is $750.

If town council finds that Tielts, a provincial tourist board, won't let them leave Evergreen for Battle River, they will have to make a choice.

Either pay the $5,000 and get very serious about tourism or do as they have this summer, and operate independently.

There may be other expenses in the future, as it has been hinted the town may relieve the chamber of their tourism responsibilities and take over the operation of the information booth.

If the town decides to get serious about tourism, forking out $5,000 for membership fees will hopefully be just the start on a much-needed promotional campaign for this area.

Another duffer

Editor bitten by golf bug — 50 rounds

If someone had told me back in April that I would play 50 rounds (9 holes) of golf this summer I would've laughed.

But, it's a fact. And there's still 2½ months left in the season.

You might say I've been bitten by the golf bug.

Golf is great therapy. Besides the exercise, being out on the links does great things for one's mind.

Besides the ups and downs on my score card (from a high of 74 down to a personal best of 48), I've enjoyed the season...my first in many a year.

Although I have played golf before, class me as a duffer. Last year I went around six times. That was the first time in 25-odd years I had picked up a club.

My family has been instrumental in getting me out on the course and my mind off

by Frank Ryan

the job. They helped with the addition of a new putter, a golf cart, glove, balls and my mom gave me a book entitled 'Golf-The Agony and The Ecstasy'. And, neighbors Ray and Judy Sopel brought me a string of ties back from an Hawaiian holiday.

Proof of my seriousness of the game resulted in a membership at the Drayton Valley course and just recently a new pair of shoes.

Of all the holes I've played this year, number nine at Birchwood Village Greens is the weirdest. You can't see the green from the tee, and one can only hope they will find their ball after they hit it.

Fortunately, I've shot 49 and 50 at Birchwood and would you believe, I haven't lost a ball in two rounds. Maybe I should quit while I'm ahead.

One of the prettiest courses is Silver Sands at Lake Isle. It's hilly, short with lots of sand traps and water. If you're a long ball hitter and play Drayton Valley, Alder Flats and Fairways West (Alder Flats), give yourself a break and play Silver Sands.

Pembina Valley at Evansburg offers a different challenge. It's another short hole course, however, the greens will quickly add up your score as they are artificial.

If you call me at the office and the girl tells you I'm out golfing, believe her.

Shopping elsewhere

'Can you really blame us?'

Dear Editor,

I have just finished reading the article in The Western Review regarding people taking their shopping dollars to larger centres.

Can you really blame us? Last summer I needed some bearings for my round baler. I had to go to two different places in Drayton Valley to get them. The first place I went to had one and said there's no place else in Drayton Valley that carry them, and that it would take at least two days to get them.

I went searching. I found another business that had them alright, but at $10 more — for the exact same bearing! When I pointed out the fact that I could get them $10 cheaper down the street, but they only had one, I was told, "Well, if you want it, pay the price or wait until the other place gets them in."

Of course, I paid the price. Dry hay doesn't wait for parts.

I realise Drayton Valley is oil-oriented, but the businesses in Drayton Valley had better realize that the oil isn't going to last forever, and then who is going to support them? All you have to do is look around town on any given day to see just who is in the majority when it comes to shoppers in Drayton Valley — farmers' vehicles or oil company trucks?

Don't get me wrong. I think the oil companies do a great job around and in Drayton Valley and I don't blame them for the "state of affairs" the businesses are in. It's the poor services and the "either pay the price or go somewhere else" attitude of the local merchants that are driving the shopping dollars out of Drayton Valley.

If the merchants of Drayton Valley are really concerned about the purchasing power of the residents in and around the farming district of Drayton Valley, they had better pull up their socks and give us decent service, and at least smile when they take our money.

It doesn't hurt a bit, and maybe a little more of that money that is going to the larger centres, will return to Drayton Valley. There are some who really care and there are others who could really care a whole lot more.

Northwestern says

Utility rates reduced

Customers of Northwestern Utilities Ltd. will receive a reduction in their rates for natural gas service with their July billing.

The rate reduction is based on anticipated decreases in the cost of gas supplies as a result of the deregulation of natural gas pricing. The reduction was approved by the Alberta Public Utilities Board following a public hearing.

The charge per gigajoule will decrease by twenty-five cents. This will result in a yearly saving of almost $50 or eight per cent for an average Edmonton residential customer. The savings will be about the same in other communities served by Northwestern, however they will vary depending on the level of municipal franchise tax.

Attention canoeists

Anyone planning a canoe trip on the North Saskatchewan River enroute to Edmonton are advised that it's not a one day trip. This sign, at the entrance to the launching area on the east side of the river explains just that.

Land annexation

Town request on hold

A request by the Town of Drayton Valley to annex a quarter section of county industrial property south of the Stardi Wood plant has been put on hold.

County of Parkland council has voted unanimously to delay the request until the new municipal district is formed.

When informed of the decision, deputy Mayor Tom McGee said, "It's not a serious setback." However, McGee did indicate his concern over the number of items being put on hold due to the government's delay in announcing the boundaries for the municipal district.

The county stated at a recent meeting they didn't have any objections to the annexation. It was noted they receive $4,432 annually in tax revenue from the property.

Charlotte and Leonard Kay.

More than 100 attend Pioneers celebrate 60th

Two well known Lodgepole/Drayton Valley pioneers celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary earlier this month.

More than 100 family and friends attended a tea on Saturday, July 4 for Charlotte and Leonard Kay. Drayton Valley MIA Shirley Crippa presented the Kays with a scroll on behalf of the province and Lili Mayhew, representing her husband (Mayor Bob Mayhew) and town council gave them a special engraved plaque marking the occasion.

The Kays went to Lodgepole in 1929 where they ran the general store and post office until '82. They were both very involved in collecting data and putting together Lodgepole's history book.

For the last six years the Kays have lived at the Whishing Well Apartments in Drayton Valley.

The Kays' two sons, Lawrence and Allan, who now make their homes in Edmonton, attended the function held at the senior citizens Drop-In Centre. Other family members came from Vancouver and Ontario.

Changes at mill in hand

Major changes are being made at the strand board mill in Drayton Valley.

An Alberta Environment spokesman told The Western Review last week they had been out to the mill twice to monitor some of the people's concerns.

A procedural change involves the sawdust in the system that is expected to help the dust problem while the intensity of heat in the burner will be increased to eliminate the ash problem.

The Environment spokesman said both of these changes, to their knowledge, had been completed and people should start seeing some improvement.

As far as the noise people have complained about, Environment says that's a municipal problem. A problem town council should be addressing.

Alberta Environment plans to keep monitoring activities at the mill, and welcome input from the people, if they have any concerns.

"No, I just got two new dogs and I don't see any reason for it."

"In town yes. They should be tied up or in their own yards."

"Yes, especially pit bull terriers. Some dogs are pretty good, but vicious dogs especially. I'm a dog owner myself, if you don't take care of them why have them?"

"I think so. Within town limits there shouldn't be any because they bother other people. Even tied on chains it's not good, it doesn't give freedom to an animal."

Chamber of Commerce

County stalls on funding request

The County of Parkland has turned down a request from the Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce for funds.

The county has delayed any decision on a request for $3,830 until they find out how the chamber benefits the county.

Reacting to the decision, chamber president Marty Prentice says some of the benefits include tourist promotion, providing shopping facilities, a trade fair and a Christmas light-on contest that has a county category.

"We don't earmark anything for the county per say, but a lot of our programs benefit the county," Prentice stated.

"I have a problem with the request with other chambers in the area. We may be setting a precedent," Councillor Ken Fuhr stated.

Many thanks to the many donors who made the Drayton Valley Stampede possible. There's no charge for admission.

Anyone interested in these events are asked to call Howard Vickas, the professional at 542-5922.

A new junior league was started at the Drayton Valley course, every Monday at 8 a.m. There's a sign sheet at the clubhouse or call Craig at 542-5922.

The Mayesthorpe men's open will be held on Saturday and Sunday featuring 36 holes modified play. To enter call 542-5922.

The championship fight at the recent men's open produced some exciting action.

Champion Jim Jarrell, formerly of Drayton Valley, and now of Calgary had rounds of 37-33, 34-37 and 39-35. Jeff Smith, the defending champion also rounds of 35-36, 36-39 and 34-35. Blair Shimbak, winner of this year's junior, started strong with rounds of 35-35 but had trouble the second day with scores of 43-40 and came back strong with a 39-35.

Don Maciborsky will remember this open for a long time. He started on with a 39-37 and then basically put himself on the back running with a 39 in the third round. But, to his credit, he came roaring back with rounds of 37-37.

Joe Palmer also rounds of 37-39 and 39-35 the first two days before coming up with 42 in the third round. He had scores of 40-43, 36-39, 37-37.

It was great to see winners like Doug Gabe, Chad Asher and Glenbeck in the men's open. The winners they gained undoubtedly help.

One of the four memories departing president Les Bannerman will have, will be his hair-on the second hole in July '86.

Fifteen hockey players representing such teams as the Oilers, Flames, Nordiques, Rangers, Whalers and Sabres have been confirmed for the third annual hockey tournament.

Calgary cowboy horned by Skywalker

In the tradition of rodeo, excitement ran high at the Buck Lake Stampede on the weekend.

Near disaster struck during the first go-around of Sunday's bull riding event when Calgary cowboy Grant Myren was thrown to the ground by bull Skywalker and pinned under the bull's weight and horns.

The bull continued to maul Myren as he grabbed at the dirt beneath trying to escape while rodeo staff attempted to intervene.

Following the incident Myren was rushed by ambulance to hospital in Breton. He was later transferred to University of Alberta hospital in Edmonton.

Staff at the Breton General Hospital were unable to disclose the extent of Myren's injuries.

Prior to the second go around in bull riding, concern was voiced by rodeo personnel as the only ambulance and medics had left the scene following the Myren accident. Later, an injury occurred and while cowboy Jim Scott of Sundre yelled for a medic, with what is believed to have been a fractured ankle bone, no ambulance or attendants were available.

Winners of the two-day event included: Darlene Thompson of Bassano finished first in ladies' barrel racing, with Leanne Bougerolle of Seba Beach placing second and Nancy Eichelberger of Innisfail third; the all-round cowboy title went to John Dale; Lon Slade of Nanton finished first in bareback riding followed by Troy Jamieson in second and Wade Galloway in third; winner of the saddle bronc was Chris Walsh of Sundre with T.J.

Bews of Longview and Don Ramsey of Cochrane finishing in a second and third split; the steer wrestling went to Doug Bootcher followed by Kevin Girtles in second and Darryl Lausen of Carlsbad third.

Murray McGonigle of Cochrane finished on top in calf roping with Barney Barron in second and Mervin Hofer of Spring Coulee third; tops in bull riding went to Ace Northeott of Caroline followed by Chad Wakefield of Sundre and third injured cowboy Grant Myren of Calgary.

The half-mile relay was won by Gordon Penyon followed by Dan Willows and Brian Jordan.

Cliff Viegen won the half-mile open with Russell Seely in second and Louis Pequin in third.

The 13-2 and under horse race winner was Jim O'Connor not followed by Chrisey O'Connor and Gordon Penyon.

The 14-2 and under horse race was won by Gordon Penyon and in second was Louis Pequin and third Jim O'Connor.

On Friday night, pony chuckwagon winners were Robert Harden in first, Jerry Shaver second and Frank Nash third.

Winners on Saturday in chucks were Robert Harden in first, Jim Cartier second and Bob McLeod third.

In the chariots, first place on Friday went to Chad Harden followed by Edna Lappin and Tom Cartier.

And on Saturday, chariot race winners were Harden in first, Cartier and Ron Harden in third.

Winner of the wild cow milking was Dan Willows.

Hole 8: 143 yards. Par 3

The eighth hole is a challenging par 3 with a large pine just off to the front left of the tee, discouraging the shot that starts to the left and the creek right down across the front of the tee.

The ground slopes sharply upward for about 90 feet just across the creek and brings the low shot to an abrupt halt usually.

The fairway in front of the green is very firm because of heavy traffic and shots landing here usually bounce right over the green.

The options are to land quite short and let it roll on, or fly the green with enough back-spin to stop the ball.

Oilfield league

Harvey Allen out-duels sons

By Frank Ryan

Harvey Allen found himself in an unfamiliar position last Tuesday night.

Allen got the pitching nod for the Easyford Colts in their first-place battle with the visiting Drayton Valley Oilers.

The Oilers lineup included two of Allen's sons, Brad and Chad.

In the end, Harvey worked eight and two-third innings, limiting the Oilers to just nine hits as the Colts chalked up a lopsided 15-8 decision. Brad Allen collected just one hit in five trips to the plate off his father while Chad, the league's top batter, failed to get a hit in four appearances.

The elder Allen got lots of support from his teammates. Besides a 15-hit attack second baseman Jack Hutchinson engineered a double play and short stop Colin Tuckwood made a driving catch on a third out, with the bases loaded.

Centre fielder Randy Pyarr led the Colts at the plate with a three-run homer and two singles. Hutchinson also added two singles and a double and Allen helped his own cause with three singles. Tuckwood collected two doubles.

Randy Swap, Joey

Hutzel and Randy Pappe all had two hits each for the Oilers with playing-coach Gerald Dusterhoft adding a solo homer.

The Oilers left 14 men on bases while the Colts stranded 12 runners.

The Oilers made the game close in the seventh when they scored three runs, narrowing the Colts' lead to 6-3. However, Easyford got two in the last of the seventh and added seven in the eighth for the win.

When the Oilers bats came alive in the ninth and they responded with five runs, Allen got relief help from Hutchinson.

The win tied the regular season series between the two clubs at two and two and boosted the Colts into sole possession of first place with an 8 and 2 record while the Oilers slipped to 7 and 3.

IDA Oilers stage comeback

By Frank Ryan

Mickey McDowell was mighty proud of his IDA Oilers beaver baseball team last Monday night.

The Oilers overcame a 7-6 deficit and climaxed their comeback with a four-run outburst in the last inning to eliminate Sherwood Park from the playoff picture.

During the sub-zones held in Drayton Valley the weekend of July 2-4, the Oilers ended up with a perfect 3-0 record while Sherwood Park were 2-1. Their final matchup had to be halted after 1 1/2 innings because of rain.

The two teams took to the field last Monday, and Sherwood Park won the rain-delayed game 12-11 to force a sudden death contest.

The visitors jumped into an early 7-3 lead and led 7-6 when the Oilers went to bat for the final time in the top of the seventh. A mixture of walks, good base running and a couple of timely hits had McDowell's club leading 10-7 before the inning expired.

In the bottom of the seventh McDowell called on his ace, Tony Kopp to stop Sherwood Park. With two out, Sherwood Park put together two hits and a walk to narrow the lead to 10-8, only to see their next batter ground out.

Robbie Hutchinson led the Oilers at the plate with two singles and a double while Kopp helped his own cause with a single and dou-

The win sent the Oilers to Gibbons this past weekend for a best-of-three series.

Win or lose, the Oilers already have a spot in the provincials, as they will be the hosts for the July 25-27 event.

Breton

Extension will increase players' challenge at course

By Kiply Lukaa Yaworski
An extension to Breton golf course will increase the challenge of the course for experienced golfers, predict members of the club executive.

A small volunteer force is currently working to enlarge the nine-hole course by about 600 yards, says Breton Golf and Country Club president Edwin Strand.

"We're eliminating one hole and adding a new one," he explains. In the process, fairways to Holes 4, 6, 7 and 8 will be extended. No. 5 will be an entirely new hole, carved out of the bush.

The expansion is hopefully the first phase of a four-phase plan for the course, said Strand.

The second phase will be to develop a water supply, taking advantage of natural drainage in the centre of the course to retain water. Phase 3 will be a clubhouse, while the final phase calls for watered greens.

"Once the fairways are lengthened, we hope people will get a vision of what the course could be," says Strand, adding if club members pull together, the four-phase plan might be reality by 1989.

With the help of the executive, Jim Whesle came up with the design for the extended course and is one of the volunteers donating time and equipment to the project, says Strand. A crew of five or six people worked for four days straight at the end of June to launch the expansion he reports, adding the executive hopes other members will also step forward to help in upcoming weeks.

"We want to get a message to the members to help out if they can."

Floyd Carson launched the golf and country club in Breton more than 20 years ago, establishing the course on village-owned property.

"To start with, I think I was the only one in town who golfed," recalled Carson. Now the club consists of 110 members.

"The short course has served its purpose," he says, describing it as an excellent course for beginners and for young people. "Every year we put on lessons. It's a good beginner course to learn on."

The training potential of the Breton course is proven, says Strand, whose son Vince introduced to the sport at the course - won the NAIT golf championship this year.

The new extension will add a few challenges, says Strand. "The better players can have a challenge and the beginners will still have a good course to start on."

Membership in the Breton Golf and Country Club is $40 a year, and a lot of people simply visit the course, paying a per-day fee of $4.

"It's a totally open club," says Strand.

An open tournament at the Breton course is planned Saturday, July 18 and Sunday, July 19.

For more information about the club, or about helping with the expansion, contact club president Elvin Strand, vice-president Albert Callihoo, Stewart Hanson or Floyd Carson.

Men's fastball finals

Trees tower over Knights to win '87 championship

By Frank Ryan
There was no denying the Denco Trees last Monday night.

After losing out in the Evergreen men's fastball playoff final the past two years the Trees downed the Knights to win the '87 title.

Other than their two playoff losses in 1985 and '86 to Penney's, by identical 4-3 scores, the Trees have dominated the league. In the past four years they chalked up an impressive 93-4 win/loss record and this year only lost once in 17 starts.

During the league's annual playoff tournament, the Trees dropped a 7-6 decision to the regular season second-place Knights which forced them to win two playoff games. The Knights went through the playoff round-robin draw with a perfect 3-0 win/loss record while the Trees finished with a 2-1 record.

In last Monday's showdown, it was all Trees, as they won the opening game 10-1 and then needed just five innings to end the Knights' season with a 12-2 decision.

The Trees scored in every inning in the final game, opening up a 7-2 lead after the third. Kelly Oftedal, who turned in a couple of exceptional defensive plays at shortstop, had a double and single. Catcher Mike Koebnick also had a double and single and Chad Allen contributed two singles and a triple. Don Sonnenberg went the distance for the win.

Oftedal also had a productive outing in the Trees' 10-1 win as he hit a three-run homer in the first inning in helping his mates to a 5-1 first inning lead. Playing-coach Bob Stewart, first baseman Preston Yachimec and Allen had two hits. Neil Hiebert got the win limiting the Knights to five hits.

In round-robin play, the Trees downed the Sardine Lakers 13-2 as Yachimec hit a three-run homer and blanked Penney's 10-0 before losing to the Knights. The Knights edged Penney's 9-8 in their opening playoff game and then needed extra innings to sideline the Lakers 6-5.

In the Knights' 7-8 win over the Trees, played in pouring rain, Ed Haykowiak scored the winning run, after racing all the way to third on a triple. He scored on Bernie Street's single in the seventh inning.

During the regular season the Trees finished with a 16-1 record followed by the Knights at 10-8, Sardine Lake were 5 and 8 and Penney's had a 4-13 win/loss record.

Travel to Kindersley

Tigers vying for Western gold

The Drayton Valley Tigers have an important engagement in Kindersley, Saskatchewan later this month.

The Tigers, Drayton Valley's over-35 baseball team, will be looking for their third straight Western Canada title when they return to Kindersley July 24 to 28.

The defending champions meet Brooks in a 2:45 p.m. game Friday, July 24 and later in the day meet Lumsden. Their final game of the round-robin is scheduled for July 25 at 12:30 p.m. against Dinmore.

Playoffs take place Sunday. Sixteen teams representing Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba are entered.

The following weekend

the Tigers will travel to Czar for the provincials. Last year they settled for the silver medal after capturing the gold two years ago.

Tigers' coach/manager Adrian Meier says this year's team, on paper, is as good a team that he has ever assembled.

In the Saskatchewan open, the H.W. Pickup junior high student won a gold and two bronze medals while Koehmstedt captured a silver and bronze in the novice class.

At the northern Canadian championships the Drayton Valley miss won two gold and two bronze.

She also attended two meets in Alberta prior to travelling to Regina for several major competitions.

In Red Deer, Bredin collected four gold medals in the 12-year-old open class and a trophy. Koehmstedt placed fifth in flora while competing in the novice class. At Ellerslie, Bredin took the gold and bronze in the 15-and-under open class.

Deanne Jolly of the Drayton Valley highland dancing club captured the silver in sword in the intermediate class at the same competition while Tricia Mallet won the silver in sword in the beginner class and Amanda Town won the bronze medal in flora, also in the beginner class.

At another meet in Edmonton, Jolly placed fourth in flora. Koehmstedt was fourth in sword. Town was fifth in sword and Christina Thesen, also in the beginner class, took the gold in the fling.

In all, Bredin collected nine gold, two silver and 10 bronze medals during the final two weeks of her season. Now, at last, she can take some time off and enjoy the holidays.

Soccer

DV United win defensive game

Playing a tight defensive game DV United won a 2-2 soccer match-up over Parkland Rivals in Spruce Grove on the weekend.

Goalkeeper Simon Kelly said the entire defence played well, not giving Parkland any opportunities.

The game, their first following a two-week layoff, was welcomed said Kelly. "It was really good to get back and play again."

Chris Kelly opened the scoring with a goal, keeping his scoring streak of a point or more per game for the season alive.

Mark Buchland added to his individual scoring streak with the team's second goal.

The final and winning goal was scored by Martin Stockloss.

Les Hawlett stormed the field with two dramatic breakaways keeping the Parkland net-minder on his toes.

DV United player/coach Ben Poblette had a "really strong game," said Kelly, convinced Poblette's "playing experience (in England) was coming through for him."

Their next game is against Edson on July 19, 2 p.m. at Lion's Park.

County programs slow to fill

By Megan Parker
County of Parkland summer programs in the Drayton Valley area may meet with their demise if response does not pick up said a disappointed Rolanda Mudry, coordinator from the parks and recreation department.

"Whatever turnout we get this year will affect what they'll (communities) get next year," she said.

Last week Mudry's department staged a Kids Academy at the Lodgepole Curling Centre and received "no response at all," Mudry explained.

The parks and recreation department visited 19 schools in an effort to promote program awareness she said.

Just two of these were in Drayton Valley — Eldorado and Elementary B.

Mudry admits the lack of promotion in the local schools may be partly to blame for the poor response but maintains "we've been delivering posters and flyers like crazy" to further awareness.

Although response has generally been slow some programs have been successful and Mudry remains optimistic.

The June 30th water skiing session at Wabunan Lake drew the maximum number of participants.

The County of Parkland Kids Academy is still scheduled for Magnolia, Tomahawk, Woodbent, Keopills and Rocky Rapids providing children with a full day of crafts, games, music and sports for just $6 per day she said.

Many other programs remain scheduled throughout the summer months including water skiing, where participants receive four hours of individualized instruction for $15, a BMX freestyle class, canoeing, river canoeing, outdoor pursuits for kids, a teen challenge and teen mountain adventure plus many more.

Although the county would prefer registrations prior to the deadline dates in their Gimme a Break 1987 Summer Programs guide, Mudry said most registrations will be accepted up to the day before the event.

"No one would be refused unless the class is already full," said Mudry.

Heritage Junior B League to expand

Membership in the Heritage Junior B Hockey League may increase by two for the 1987-88 season.

All six of last year's clubs — defending league and playoff champion Drayton Valley Devils, Rimby, Barhead, Hobbema, Rocky Mountain House and Spruce Grove are expected to return. And, St. Albert and Andrew have until July 26 to make a formal application.

Those two applications will be dealt with during an ice scheduling meeting in Leduc later this month.

However, it's not certain at this time who will handle the Drayton Valley team. Coaches Preston Yachimec and Connelly Dunham or manager Harvey Allen haven't indicated their willingness to return for another season. Allen told The Western Review last week that he's unsure if he'll come back.

Meanwhile, it's obvious the Devils will have some spots to fill.

Veteran defenceman Kevin Hutchinson hopes to play hockey with the Red Deer College Kings this winter. He was scouted during last season's playoff with Rimby and at the provincial tournament by Kings coach Al Ferchuk who has extended a personal invitation to Hutchinson to try out for his Alberta College Athletic Conference club.

There's also a good possibility that Blair Shimshadi will play with the University of Alberta Golden Bears. And, several other players have been invited to the Grande Prairie North Stars Junior B camp.

Weekend swim meet

Neptune club fourth

The Neptune swim club placed fourth overall at a weekend swim meet at Spruce Grove.

David Rurka chalked up 12 points to win the six-and-under boys' aggregate while Tim Regnier finished with 24 points as he won the eight-and-under boys' aggregate.

The Neptunes chalked up 11 firsts during the one-day meet with Regnier taking top honors in the 25-metre back and breaststroke. James MacLure also won two firsts in the boys' 15 and 16 age group, reaching the finish line first in the 100-metre back and breaststroke.

Rurka claimed top spot in the 25-metre backstroke while Jennifer Edwards won the nine and 10 girls' 25-metre butterfly and Jackie Urchakyn took top honors in the girls' 13 and 14 year old 100-metre back.

The other four firsts came in the relays.

Facelift on schedule — Evergreen school emerging Elementary B school was visited last week by officials who gave a "semi-inspection" of the facility.

Principal Elson Keown said the inspection was to examine the school in case any last-minute changes were needed prior to the official inspection, scheduled for late next week.

Inspectors included the contractor, architect, and County of Parkland officials.

Keown is spending a portion of the summer overseeing final renovations to the school, and is also searching for a new French teacher.

The former French teacher has moved to Calgary because of her husband's transfer there.

In terms of renovations, workers have just finished the laying of beige hallway carpets.

The school's new library has been completed, with a rusty-brown carpet also just recently laid. Keown said the school has hired a teacher/librarian, Lynda Smith, who will start work in September.

Because of its ongoing facelift, the school was without a library for all of last year.

The general office has also had some new additions. Adjacent to the old office is a new conference room with a counsellor's office and testing room connected to it.

A cedar wall has also been installed and workers last week were putting the finishing touches on the school's improved sound system.

All classrooms have been fitted with cupboards to complement their sinks, and all lockers have now been painted either yellow or orange.

An interesting aspect of the school, whose name will officially change to Evergreen starting Sept. 1, is the large mural which greets visitors at the main entrance.

The mural's design was inspired by ideas from students, Keown said.

Outside, workers continue to be busy with landscaping and widening the fire lane. The parking lot is also due for expansion. And the site contractor is winding up with stuccoing the building.

Currently, the tentative

completion date for the outside work is mid-August, Keown said.

The school's grand opening is slated for sometime in late fall, probably when it can coincide with a board of education meeting in town.

Officials concur that total costs of renovations should fall far short of the $2,495,000 debenture.

Writer not yet ready for 'teenagehood'

I've often wondered what it would be like to have teenagers.

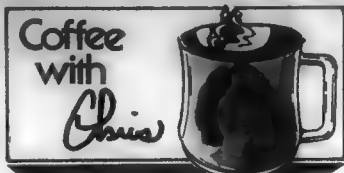

Well, I can stop wondering. For the past 10 days Fred and I have enjoyed the company of three such creatures.

When the opportunity to live with teenagers for a few weeks came up, we thought it would be good experience. Instant big family. Ryan and Rebecca would have built-in role models, 'big-brother hero worship,' and all that stuff.

And for us it would be nice to have someone over three-feet tall to talk with. Someone with a vocabulary that consisted of more than a Dr. Seuss novel.

Day 1: First thing in the morning I'm not a morning person normally, but I wanted to make a good impression on my first day. I walk into the kitchen and meet Jeff, who is 17.

As he is putting in a cassette of his music, he explains, "This is the kind of music Bible camps and churches warn you about."

I'm not quite awake yet, but I do have some knowledge of this. "Yes, I've heard about that. That's where if you play the tape backwards there's all kinds of evil messages on it."

"No," Jeff replies. "you play it forward." So this is teenage music. Maybe it will sound better after 7 a.m.

Day 2: I discover it doesn't matter what time of day it is — the music doesn't get better, just louder.

Day 3: First thing this morning, while sitting at the table with my bowl of Shreddies (hey, I got up didn't I I don't want to overdo my good impression by getting up early and making a nutritious breakfast. Shreddies is fine.) I look up to see a stranger at the breakfast table.

Last count there are supposed to be three teenagers, now I have four. Who is this kid? What, he slept here? Where? Who let him in? What's his name? Alright, never mind the third degree, let him finish his fourth bowl of cereal before he goes home. His 18-year-old's telephone conversation be? And then I hear her say, "Yes, it starts at 1 o'clock. At my house. Ya, this party will be great. O.K. I'll call everybody else. O.K., see ya tomorrow."

I'm paying attention now. Party? Tomorrow? HERE? Call everybody else? Help!

Day 5: Mark, 15, comes up from downstairs and says, "I suppose you want to know what just happened downstairs?"

Give me a five-year-old who exclaims, "Oh gross! Mommeel. Ryan just spit in his soup!" That I can handle — I'm used to it.

But a party, here, tomorrow, with how many teenagers? And no, I don't really want to know what just happened downstairs. And Jeff, could you try that tape backwards? (Could be an improvement.)

I don't think I'm ready to handle "teenagehood." Am I really only just up to Day 5?

23 fires so far

Record forest fires in Brazeau district

The Brazeau district has been battling a record number of forest fires so far this year.

As of last week, 23 fires have been reported by the local district, a far cry from last year's abnormally quiet season.

Two of the fires have been particularly devastating, each burning up 10 to 15 acres of forest. The average district fire encompasses less than a half-acre.

Chief Ranger Bob Hilbert blames the moderate-to-high hazard reading on the warm winter and subsequent early spring.

However, although the situation is still volatile, the "danger's down a wee bit due to greener, lusher vegetation."

Hilbert counts roughly 10 fires caused by lightning strikes and another eight due to power lines. The remainder were industrial in nature, having been sparked by oil gas, or mill activity.

The power line fires create "a dangerous situation...generally, they're a fairly rare occurrence," he said. But a recent spate of heavy winds probably resulted in many trees falling on top of power lines — trees already weakened by May's massive snowfall.

Lightning fires are up dramatically over previous years, said Hilbert.

Usually, there are no more than one or two a year.

While the number of lightning strikes is about average, there has been a high incidence of "dry lightning" strikes.

"Dry lightning is when it strikes off to the side of the rainstorm, or when lightning is without the rain at all," Hilbert noted.

The months of June and July are considered the most fervent times for lightning

Hilbert said the same situation is occurring throughout the province.

"There's been in excess of twice as many fires this year as compared to last year."

There have been 644 fires so far in 1987. At this time in 1986, there had been only 308 fires.

The province has spent $12.5 million in forest fire protection to date.

Breton

Concerns raised with ambulance response times

Leduc and district ambulance board members have voted to meet with the Breton hospital board to discuss ambulance coverage in the Breton area.

No date for the meeting has been set.

Leduc county councillors passed a motion last month instructing Leduc and district ambulance board chairman and Division 8 Coun. Reg. Barra to discuss the need to have ambulance coverage in Breton with Tri-County Emergency Medical Services owner Bruce Osborne.

The motion was passed after Division 8 Coun. Jim Coombes expressed concern about ambulance service in Breton following a March 10 accident south of Breton on Highway 12.

Winfield resident Joan Flaxters, 38, died of injuries sustained in the crash. A 72-year-old man was charged with criminal negligence in connection with the matter and will stand trial in Wetaskiwin Court of Queen's Bench in November.

Coombes noted a letter was forwarded to the ambulance board by Breton hospital board chairman Tom Thurber. The letter dated May 19, had not been presented to the board by the June 18 county council meeting.

Thurber would not comment on the letter, noting the hospital board hadn't received a reply from the ambulance authority. "I don't want to comment until we get an answer but we do want to get things streamlined," said Thurber.

During the council meeting, Coombes explained an ambulance had apparently taken one hour and 10 minutes to reach the scene.

He said the Breton ambulance was on call in another community when the accident happened.

Tri-County managing director Osborne was on holidays and could not be reached for comment.

Building permits up

Building permits for the first six months of the year in Drayton Valley have surpassed the $3 million dollar mark.

Permits to the end of June totalled $3,137,050. This is well below last year's sixth-month total of $4,790,300 but ahead of '86's amount of $3,087,485.

Last month the town issued $498,750 in building permits which included $183,750 for residential construction and $305,000 for institutional building. The Baptist Church accounted for $250,000 of the institutional total with another $55,000 being added for a new portable at the Eldorado school.

In June of '86 permits totalled $101,800 compared to $641,905 two years ago.

So far this year residential construction has accounted for $1,468,850.

Ants, worms and your lawn

Homeowners wondering what causes a "bumpy" lawn should look for at least two different causes, says a specialist with Alberta Agriculture in Brooks.

Cathy Linowski, information officer with the Alberta Special Crops and Horticultural Research Centre, says ants and earthworms are the leading causes for the small bumps in a lawn. She says both can be controlled with chemicals, but she advises they may do far more good than harm.

Although ants live in nests in the soil and may form large mounds, they can be helpful in a lawn by eating decaying organic matter and harmful insects. Linowski says chemicals can be used to control ants, but only if they are a real problem.

Earthworms burrow through the soil, feeding on organic matter and dead leaves and stems at the soil surface. They decompose thatch, mix organic material through the soil and aerate the soil with their tunnelling. Again the spokesman says the can be chemically controlled, but only if they are causing a serious problem.

Expansion

Treatment plant gets clarifier

The expansion of the water treatment plant is progressing well, says town engineer Manjeet Saran.

The all-important clarifier - in essence, the water cleanser - is currently being put into place and should be assembled in two or three weeks, Saran said.

The new clarifier is double the size of the old one, which will remain active.

Filters are also being constructed. Altogether, the filters and the clarifiers cost a total of $186,000.

Saran estimated the expansion will be completed by this December or January.

Once the new plant reaches operating capacity, it should be able to handle the water demands of up to 5,000 people.

Costing $1.9 million, the expansion of the 15-year-old plant began last November.

County of Parkland

School board trustees agree they number too many Local school trustees know the County of Parkland Board of Education is too large but they don't know quite what to do about it.

They also know the present system of trustee rotation is unsatisfactory but they can't seem to come up with a better system neither, for that matter can provincial officials.

A review of the County Act has been underway in Alberta for quite some time and it seems the government may now be at the point of allowing each jurisdiction to come up with its own system of trustee representation and rotation because no one can come up with a system that will satisfy everyone.

During a discussion of the County Act Review Report at last month's meeting, local trustees for the most part reiterated opinions they'd already expressed on previous occasions.

"I don't think any of us are adding to the discussion," Margaret McNary acknowledged.

She takes the position that the present county system, as spelled out in the legislation, is dangerously contingent on the good will of the people who are elected to keep it going.

If school trustees and municipal councillors get along, the system works fine. If they don't, serious problems can develop.

Maurice McCullagh said the entire county system might as well be scrapped if the principle of equal representation on the school board between county councillors and school trustees is discontinued.

One of the major reasons the county system was initiated was to ensure that councillors would have a voice in establishing tax requirements for education purposes, he said.

Without that system in place, town representatives will be deciding the requisition and county residents will be providing most of the funds.

It's not all balance the number of councillors and trustees, however, that's created one of the largest school boards in the province.

The County of Parkland Board of Education increased in size when the number of divisions in the county increased to nine from seven.

The need for balance is also behind the provision for trustee rotation.

If the number of divisions in the county increases again, Rianne Kulak pointed out, as many as seven trustees could be on rotation at any given time.

When trustees are on rotation, they may take part in discussions but they may not vote.

Simply eliminating some of the trustees on the board throws off the present system of "equal representation" of the views and opinions of county, town, city and summer village residents.

Ron Pollock suggested trustees look into the county system to meet County of Parkland needs. If they're able to come up with a solution satisfactory to themselves, chances are the provincial government will say, "Go ahead. Leave us alone."

McCullagh pointed out that if county council and the other municipal councils within the County of Parkland jurisdiction could agree to limit their representation on the school board, they'd have the problems of size and rotation solved, "simple as that."

IMPROVEMENT CAN BE COSTLY

You can make many mistakes trying to sell your own home. And one of them is making the wrong improvements. Many times, an expensive addition or repair can be the kind of thing that'll cost you far more than you get back.

True, the house should present a favorable appearance - moved lawn, trimmed shrubs, and no obvious indications of neglect, but it's rare when a large financial undertaking will bring more than its cost in the final selling price.

There is always the financial risk of miscalculation too. Home repair costs frequently end up a lot higher than originally anticipated. You may end up with a faster sale and less inconvenience if you lower the selling price an equivalent amount.

Instead of guessing as to how much, if any, repair work to undertake, see a Realtor. He can tell you what to do to make your home more saleable. And what NOT TO DO so you won't lose money.

Call Rod Schultz today for fast, professional service.

Insurance business

Mulligan expands his service

By Steve Fletcher
Local insurance agent John Mulligan's move to a new building coincides with his recent expansion of services.

Along with life insurance and the motor vehicle division, Mulligan is now able to handle the general insurance (which includes disability, auto, fire, and commercial pension) needs of his clients. "We've been wanting to get into the general insurance area for the last 1 1/2 years, but the lack of space held us up," said Mulligan, who will continue to be responsible for the life insurance aspect of his company.

He moved into his new building, located at 5196-52nd Ave., last month.

With Deanna Fald coming on-stream June 1, plus Valerie (his wife) obtaining her brokerage license in June, it gave us the opportunity to offer a broader range of insurance."

Valerie was formerly in charge of the motor vehicle division of the company — Mulligan Enterprises, Inc. Fald joins the staff with eight years experience in the insurance business.

"One thing that life teaches you is service and being in constant touch with clients, and we are going to institute the same type of program with the general insurance division of our company," Mulligan said.

He added that a big feature of the new general insurance package is discounts to homeowners over the age of 55. Farmers' discounts will also be offered.

Further, professionals — including teachers, lawyers, doctors, and employees of banks and the provincial government — can receive substantial general insurance discounts.

Mulligan is equally proud of his motor vehicles division, which he says is the first office to be authorized to offer a 24-hour drop-in mailbox service for license plate renewals.

The division, a part of his company since January 1985, also handles the renewal and issuing of driver's licenses, and driver's abstracts.

A native of Prince Edward Island, Mulligan came west 19 years ago.

An insurance agent since 1984, he was formerly involved in his own furniture business in Drayton Valley. "If you said four years ago that I would be in insurance, I would have thought you were crazy," Mulligan joked. "But I've always believed in insurance, even before I got into the business."

Mulligan added that he welcomes business from the outlying areas, including Buck Lake, Alder Flats, Warburg, Entwistle, and Evansburg.

Office hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday to Thursday, and from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Fridays.

MD decision still 'bogged down'

By Frank Ryan
A decision on the formation of a new municipal district is apparently bogged down in the province's education department.

Deputy Mayor Tom McGee confirmed that following a private meeting last Monday with MLA Shirley Crippa. The meeting was attended by representatives of the Yes Group, town council and the chamber.

McGee says the item is before the education minister because some people are demanding an education study before any decision is made.

He says the meeting with the MLA was arranged in an attempt to find out what was happening.

McGee added that as far as he knew, no decision has been made.

"She (Shirley Crippa) is well aware that we're very concerned," McGee added.

Because of the province's delay in announcing the boundaries the new municipal district will take, McGee says a lot of things are on hold.

Some of these include annexation of a quarter section of industrial land by the town, the arena/multi purpose complex, new landfill transfer stations at Lodgepole and Cynthia, a proposed trailer court near Rocky Rapids and financial planning in town.

Town manager Manny Deol has confirmed that a letter has been sent to the MLA, asking for some action.

Bob Booth, chairman of the Yes Group, Western Ratepayers, was not available for comment.

New home plan soon

A new home protection plan is being introduced to Drayton Valley residents.

Canada Trust Phillips Really will be going door to door in the evening (7 to 8:30 p.m.) between July 13 to 18 handing out a special protection plan brochure.

It's important that residents fill out the coupon inside the brochure and send it to Canada Trust's head office in Toronto, so the necessary information can be fed into their computer. Otherwise, you won't be registered with the program.

Through the plan, Canada Trust will pay $500 to the person who calls the police first with information that leads to a conviction.

Canada Trust, who are also national sponsors for Block Parents, feel this plan will make a friend or neighbor take a special interest in what's going on around your place. In fact, statistics show that rewards help reduce the incidence of break-ins.

There's also a decal enclosed in the brochure that residents are urged to display in the windows at each entrance to your home.

Most importantly, participating in this program won't cost you a cent. Breaking into your home will cost a thief a lot more.

If you are missed when Canada Trust representatives call at your home, call their office at 542-2788.

Winfield school reunion

The Winfield school reunion will be held Aug. 1 and 2 at the Rec Centre.

The reunion is for anyone who graduated or would have graduated from 1973 to '80.

A banquet will be held on Saturday, Aug. 1 at 6 p.m. with a dance to follow at 8 p.m. Families will enjoy an outing on Sunday.

Matrimony is the only game of chance the clergy favor.

'Best is yet to come' for '87 graduates

By Bernice Johnson

A little sister for Cynthia and Pamela Beller arrived at the Drayton Valley hospital June 21, weighing seven pounds 14 ounces. Proud parents of Amanda Marie are Ken and Barb Beller. Cynthia and Pamela arrived back home July 4 after spending five weeks with their grandparents, the Bellers, in Courtenay, B.C.

A special welcome to John and Sylvia Gomolchuk, who have purchased Buck Mountain Motors from the Osterlunds. The new owners are from Rocky Mountain House and have six children: Lance is married and lives in Rocky, Derrick and Simone will be helping with the business as Sylvia is employed at the Rocky hospital, Junia and Sheldon are in grades 11 and 9 in the Alder Flats school and Jessica is in kindergarten.

The Bare Foot Mudfling event held June 27 and 28 was very successful. About 2000 spectators enjoyed the muddy competition.

The two-day event had more than 80 vehicles entered in the eight categories, coming from as far away as Peace River to compete in this relatively new sport and hoping to share in the $2,500 prize money. Organisers Ed and Laura Haggar were pleased with this year's event and are hoping to hold another in September.

Alder Flats school held their graduation June 26. The theme for this year was, "The best is yet to come."

The gymnasium, decorated in soft shades of pink, blue and white, was the scene for 14 graduating students. They included Darin Banach, Richard Clemmer, Kerri Drader, Roxanne Ford, Nicole Kelgren, Colleen Kurley, Mark MacLean, Barry Miller, Janet Moody, Leah Parker, Samantha Russell, Shawn Russell, Orman Savage and Denise Stenberg.

Graduates, escorts, parents and guests attended a banquet at Buck Lake prior to the hour-long exercises. Kevin Moore was master of ceremonies. Councillor Wallace Wilson spoke on behalf of the county and presented the grads with county pins.

Kerri Drader gave the tribute to the parents with Linda Moody giving the reply. The tribute to the teachers was given by Leah Parker with Gerry Varty replying. The presentation to the school was made by Barry Miller and accepted by Ivy Seely.

Wade Strass, a former teacher was guest speaker for the evening. Orman Savage presented Strass with an appreciation gift. Anne Olsen and Lois Robinson received special recognition and were presented with a long-stemmed rose as were Linda Moody, Janice Stenberg, Sheila Russell and Mrs. VanLoenen in appreciation.

Shirley Shanks, on behalf of the Kindergarten Society, presented medallions to the grads and Vicki Dunn, as they were the first kindergarten formed 18 years ago. Hal Kinsay made a special presentation to the grads and Bill McCarthy spoke on behalf of the County of Wetaskiwin.

Barry Miller and Richard Clemmer gave the class history while class medallions were made by Shawn Russell and Denise Stenberg. Darin Banach was class valedictorian.

Seven to choose from

Golfers' paradise — within 40 miles

By Frank Ryan

If golf's your game the area offers seven excellent courses to choose from.

And, each one offers golfers — both duffer and veteran alike, lots of challenges. Everything from artificial and sand greens to water hazards.

If you're a long ball hitter, you'll love this 18-hole par 66 5,002-yard layout located on Highway 22, south of Alder Flats.

Two holes on the front nine and another on the back are over 600 yards in length. If you really like walking, nine of their holes are 400 yards or longer. There's also some short holes, four in all, that can usually be reached with a good drive.

A new clubhouse has been added this year with a full line of golf accessories and club rentals. There's also a restaurant next door.

If you wish to call ahead and confirm a tee off time phone 388-3060.

This is one of the most challenging golf courses you will find anywhere. These challenges include six water holes, sand traps and narrow fairways coming off several of the tee boxes.

It's a nine-hole par 35

3038-yard course that includes a ninth hole you'll never forget. Enough said about that hole.

The easiest hole, if there is such a thing at Birchwood, is the first. Then, the water hazards dominate your game the rest of the way.

Their longest hole is the 495-yard sixth and the shortest is the 165-yard second where the tee box is situated on the side of a hill.

It's definitely a course every golfer should play...at least once.

To book a round call 542-3400.

This is one of the few remaining courses with sand greens.

The course, located a block past the water tower (turn right) is a relatively short course, covering 2,434 yards with a par 35.

Only three of the holes are 300 yards in length or longer. You can ease into the course on the 119-yard first hole, which is a nice way to start.

If you haven't played on sand greens for a while, the Breton course offers the opportunity, at a mere $4 per round.

This 8,245-yard par 36 (men) course is the midpoint of a major expansion (another nine holes) given you the chance to use all the clubs in your bag.

The first four holes are fairly open, five and six are in the bush, seven is along the highway, then there's the water hazards on eight and nine.

Don't be fooled by this course. It might look easy. But, just try and play it. The 523-yard sixth is the longest and the 142-yard eighth has been the scene of many holes-in-one.

Some of the new holes are scheduled to come into play next month while work starts on the existing holes.

The popularity of this course is reflected in its membership. Last year 618 memberships were sold and this year it's close to 600 making it one of the busiest courses of its size in the entire province. The membership also includes more than 100 juniors.

The course offers a well stocked pro shop, restaurant, lounge and cart shed, pitching green and driving range. If you would like lessons call club professional Howard Vickers. The restaurant is open year-round.

To book a tee off time call 542-3602 after 8 a.m. the day you wish to play.

This nine-hole 2501-yard par 33 course offers lots of challenges...from their artificial greens to short holes. If your irons are strong, then you'll love this hilly little layout.

While it's only 2500 yards long, make sure you have good footwear, as it's a hilly course.

The greens are extremely fast. Duffers are often recommended to chip up to the edge, and putt from there. That's a good advice for everybody.

Their phone number is 727-2797.

Long ball hitters will also like this course that features plush fairways and fast greens. Stay out of the bush because it's hard to find your ball.

A sand trap was recently added to the first hole, creating another challenge on a course which draws raves from everyone who uses it.

Their longest hole is the 500-yard fifth with the shortest being the 145-yard fourth. You'll love their wide fairways. But, beware of the trees, especially the ones on or close to the fairway.

For reservations call 797-3025.

This nine hole 2665-yard par 34 course is similar to Birch Village Greens for its water hazards and Pembina Valley at Evansburg for its hills.

Silver Sands, located 8 km off Highway 16 at the Falls Store, features wide fairways and deep grass on the fairways.

They're open dawn to dusk seven days a week.

The holes are appropriately named like Gopher (the fifth) where you have to drive across a water hazard onto the green which is practically surrounded by sand traps. Don't be upset if the water gets one of your balls, because it won't be alone at the bottom of the pond.

For reservations call 797-2683.

If golf's your game, you shouldn't get bored with the excellent courses the area has to offer.

Be selective preparing resume

By Tracey Vatter, manager

Maverick Kensington must hand in a resume for one of the jobs he has applied for. Maverick has never written a resume before so he finds this information to help him.

A resume is a brief written summary of your background and experience.

Hire A Student

It is a self-marketing tool, designed to get the employer's attention. When preparing one, be selective. Use the most relevant experiences listed on your 'personal fact sheet.'

A resume should not be more than two typed pages. Leave plenty of space to ensure it is easy to read. Do not sign or date a resume. Do up date it regularly.

There are a number of different types of resume formats. A resume decides to use the chronological resume format. He uses this format because it is easiest to compile and the one most employers prefer because it shows at a glance what you have done and when you did it. Regardless of the format you use, your resume should include the following information:

Personal data: provide your name, address and telephone number at the top of the page.

Education: list schools attended, type of program, areas of concentration, and completion. Include all awards, certificates, diplomas and/or degrees.

Employment history: supply both company names and the names of the supervisors. When describing your experience, start each sentence with an action verb that describes what you have done. (e.g. responsible for, developed, coordinated.)

Additional information: use this section to your advantage by providing extra information related to the position you want. Extra curricular activities, special skills, and volunteer work are good indicators of your worth as an employee.

Career objectives: state these if your goals relate to the jobs being applied for.

References: choose your references carefully. Try to obtain a variety. Don't forget to consult with your references before using their names. If you state your references are available upon request, be sure to take the typed information to your interview.

A resume should always be accompanied by a covering letter, even if you submit it in person. This brief, businesslike letter introduces your resume. Tailor it to the job applied for by drawing the employer's attention to the relevant sections of your resume. Politely request an interview. As with the resume, be brief, thorough and selective about the information you include. Unlike the resume the covering letter is signed and dated.

From this information Maverick makes a resume that best suits his needs. He now feels confident in writing resumes for any job, because of the information he has found.

Steak barbecue

Tomahawk picnic, parade a success

By Dorothy Dowke

The July 1 picnic was quite well attended this year. An 11 a.m. parade started the day's activities.

In the comedy category winners were Tina Neubert, Jason Seely and Noland Seely. In the commercial: General Store was first. Tomahawk Meats second and Mechanical Service third.

In the club section first was Tomahawk Library followed by Tomahawk Sports. Agga and the Lutheran Church. In the bicycles, Tricia and Kara Lee Shapel and Jarritt Scott. In the trykes, Christina Gilbert, Patrick Goertz and Brock Franklin.

Joyce Goertz won the afghan raffled by the goat club.

We also had a ball tournament and horseshoe tourney with others enjoying an afternoon of bingo.

A special thanks to all who volunteered time and services to make the day a success.

We rounded off the day with a steak barbecue.

Thompson ticked with dog owners

Recently Earl Thompson awoke to strange noises in his back yard west of Drayton Valley. What he found was one big mess — a mess he attributes to irresponsible dog owners. Two dogs Thompson describes as possibly part German shepherd and about one-year-old had torn apart lawn chairs, rugs, a jacket, toys belonging to his grandchildren and a custom-made tarp he'd owned for 35 years. The dogs are believed to have come from Poplar Ridge trailer court. Thompson doesn't blame the dogs, but has animosity towards the pet owners who "heap this kind of inconvenience on people."

Slow-pitch tourney scheduled July 17

By Mae Tryon
542-5792

Congratulations to Walter and Patsy Appleby on the birth of a baby girl in early June.

The Lindale School Association has been very busy. Several volunteers gathered at the school June 16 and by the time the day was over, a new playground was finished. Many thanks to all the volunteers and group leaders for making the day such a success. Thanks to the ladies for the pot-luck dinner.

The association will be hosting a slow-pitch tourney ment July 17, 18 and 19. Anyone who would like to help is asked to call Mae Tryon or Audrey Bryant.

The Lindale school held its Grade 9 graduation June 19. The gym was decorated in red, white and black. Best wishes are extended to graduates Christina Scobie, Chryl Shipton, Tracy Martin, Joan Tryon, Ronald Hall, Lorne Larson, Stewart Doucette, Ross Dalke, Wade Poettcher and Chris Davidson. Some of these young people will attend Breton high school or Frank Maddock in Drayton Valley and all our best wishes go with them.

On June 12 the Lindale Hall Board and Lindale School Association jointly held Farmer's Day. Ball games went all day long with kids' races in the afternoon. Attendance was down from the past years. The evening ended with a barbecue supper followed by a dance with music by Horse Thief (former ly Haywire).

If anyone has any news they would like in the paper please phone 542 5792.

Get well wishes to Jim Holmgren who was in the hospital recently. Sympathy from the community goes to Agnes Laas on the death of her mother recently.

Alberta break — Pick a festival and participate

One of the most prolific and highly acclaimed poets in modern history settled on a farmstead near Red Deer in Central Alberta.

Stephen Stephenson was equally adept with the tools of a pioneer as he was with words. Living a simple life, he nevertheless was creator of the magnificent Stephenson House, gathering spot for the Tumbula Festival held annually in his honor.

Tombola is a country fair with a difference. The crafts displayed are later acquired, allowing some lucky visitors

In Cree "Pine Yeaw" stands for oil sands. The famous oil sands of northeastern Alberta had been discovered by the Cree long before the first white fur traders arrived. The Cree combined the sticky tar with spruce gum to seal and patch their bark canoes.

A one-day celebration at the Fort McMurray Oil Sands Interpretive Centre acknowledges Cree involvement in the discovery of what is acknowledged to be the second-largest reserve of crude oil in the world.

Heritage Days offered an evening barbecue that followed a day program featuring chautauque, a word for plays performed by theatre companies that once travelled the prairies in covered wagons. The re-enactment, with a variety of other acts in a huge tent pitched for the occasion, and a scavenger hunt are expected to draw more than 5,000 guests Aug. 1.

Tombola is to be held July 12 this year at the Stephenson House site. Three tents will be dedicated to musical performances and poetry reading.

Tombola annually attracts more than 600 competitors in several poetry writing competitions. This year, the winning entries will be read by Manitoba poet Kristina Gunnars in an amphitheatre surrounded by trees. Among the demonstrators will be that of Richard White, who has set several of Stephenson's poems to music.

Vegreville will stage its annual Pysanka Festival July 25. The festival includes competitions in dance and music, and features young performers competing in choral, solo and instrumental categories as well as traditional dance.

Winners advance to variety concerts held throughout North America. Organizers expect the attendance of several federal and provincial politicians for the opening Friday night.

Pysanka Festival banquets are famous. The food is great, and there's plenty of it.

They didn't pull any punches when they named Head-Smashed-In Buffalo Jump near Fort Macleod in southern Alberta. The name was given by the Piegans Indians who used its most prominent physical feature, an escarpment, to harvest buffalo. Even before the advent of the horse, they would herd the animals toward the cliff and kill those that somehow survived the fall. Opening of the new Head-Smashed-In Buffalo Jump Interpretive Centre on July 28 is to be attended by their Royal Highnesses, the Duke and Duchess of York.

From July 31 to Aug. 3 at Head-Smashed-In, native performers will stage "Tuhkanap," translated as Gathering Place. The festival offers competition in a lot of sporting events, judging of native dance competitors and a huge pow wow of native people throughout the northwest plains. It has been described as a special kind of feast.

The Ukrainian Cultural Village 60 km east of Edmonton is the site of several special events this year.

Pioneer Days on July 18 will combine a market and crafts with a demonstration of antique cars and an 1916 steam tractor hooked up to a small sawmill.

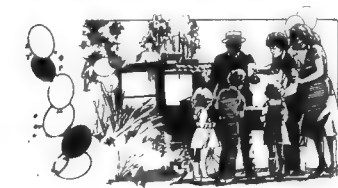

Interpretive staff dressed in folk costume and train ed in the lifestyle of Ukrainian immigrants from 1896 to 1932 will explain the lives of these early Alberta settlers. Ukrainian Day, set for Aug. 9 at the same location, will offer dances and music, an ecumenical church service, and a display of arts and crafts.

Harvest Days on Aug. 30 will show how the harvest was conducted 70 years ago with a steam tractor driving a threshing machine. In another demonstration, women will strip feathers and use a treadle sewing machine to make a quilt in a re-enactment of the "bees" that were popular during the same period.

Indian Harvest is the title for an Aug. 30 event at the Strathcona Archeological Centre just east of Edmonton. Visitors will be offered the opportunity to observe a "dig" at site recovering artifacts from Indian stamp-outs up to 4,500 years ago.

A festival at historic Duvegnon on the Peace River July 28 will feature a black powder shoot in which costumed marksmen compete for accuracy using muzzle loading rifles. Duvegnon was a mission and fur-trading post made famous as the site of a peace treaty agreed upon between the Beaver and Cree nations late in the 18th century. Demonstrations by their descendants and a family program that includes relay races and wagon races will round out the day.

Alberta's rural towns are host to a variety of such unique festivals throughout the summer. And it's the opportunity not just to attend, but to participate, that make them special events for anyone interested in Alberta's culture.
